About

Hi! I am Clifford Butler, a business analyst with 14+ years of experience in business analysis, process improvement, and working with data visualization. I have 10 years of experience analyzing and presenting data using SQL, 10 years of experience with business intelligence and data visualization tool Tableau, and 10 years of experience with Python, a modern programming language. I am currently contributing the following roles: business analyst, data scientist, software developer, and program manager. And open to other career opportunities within the Greater Seattle Area that fit my professional skills, personality, and ambitious drive. Learn More
